Dr X

One of the most direct and unbelievable openers ever conceived! A number of jumbo cards are displayed It is explained that they have been selected for psychological reasons. facedown, culminating in an astounding prediction.

Rising Sun

An experiment in creative visualization. A spectator is asked to imagine a country and the performer divines the mentally selected destination.

Doodlebug

This has to be the ultimate! The most perfect drawing duplication ever! The performer and a spectator stand back to back and at the same time draw a design and you've guessed it...they both match! No forces. No ifs! No buts! This item alone is well worth the price of the video.

High Five
