

Glass Box Revisited Book by Devin Knight - ebook - DOWNLOAD

This is the Glass Box Prediction on steroids! New and exciting techniques that take the original glass box far beyond anything you imagined possible. Almost double the size of the first release with new material that has NEVER appeared in print. Positively the most impossible headline prediction ever created. These new techniques will convince your audience you have the ability to see the future.

EFFECT:

You give a VIP (very important person) a clear plastic box containing three predictions weeks in advance. The three predictions are plainly seen inside the box. YOU NEVER TOUCH THE BOX AGAIN. On the day of your show, the VIP brings the box to your show and opens it in full view of the audience. He takes out the predictions and reads them aloud before you even touch them. You have corrected predicted the headlines under the most impossible conditions imaginable.

NEW INFORMATION THAT DEVIN HELD BACK IN THE FIRST RELEASE NOW REVEALED!

These ideas are not limited to just the Glass Box, you can apply many these ideas to almost any headline prediction you may currently be using.

- Predictions are always in full view inside the clear box
- Performer NEVER touches the box at anytime during the performance
- Al Mann's original Glass Box secret (this sold for $600 on ebay)
- Devin Knight's Improved Glass Box secrets (greatly expanded)
- Alternatives to not using a glass box
- What to predict and more importantly what NOT to predict
- How to get the predictions notarized
- Ways to let the VIP apparently read the predictions and SIGN them before they are sealed in the box. In fact, he can actually quote to the audience what the predictions are BEFORE the box is opened proving he read them in advance. HE IS NOT A STOUGE.
- The complete technique on how to create a FALSE memory in the VIP's mind. This information alone is worth the price of the book
- How to apparently make a wrong prediction, yet it comes true the next day after the show! This will convince the world you can really predict the future.

- The Radio Interview Secret. You verbally quote on a radio show earlier in the week what you predicted and sealed in the box. On the day of the show those events are the current headlines in the paper. This will convince hard-core skeptics you might be for real. An excerpt from the radio show can be played during your show so the audience can hear the verbal prediction made earlier in the week.
- Proven ways to have the audience think you are a celebrity before you even come on stage. This technique alone will make your show go better.
- Techniques that let you predict things after the fact.
- How to prove you have predicted every major disaster that happened in the last few years. Not just verbal claims, but concrete proof. This will enhance your reputation as a mentalist and person who sees the future.
- How to keep diaries that prove to reporters your long list of predictions. This is a new secret and is revealed for the first time.
- How to apparently change the future and stop bad things from happening you have foreseen! A proven method that Devin used and received a two-minute standing ovation for. You offer concrete proof that you changed the future, proof that will stand up to most ardent investigations by skeptical reporters.
- Sure-fire ways to get thousands of dollars worth of free advertising on local television stations during prime time. This information alone can pay for the cost of the book.
- Proven techniques to make yourself famous and double your show fees because of your fame.

BONUS: The 1985 Ultimate Prediction. This is the exact method used by Devin Knight in 1985. He used this method to achieve world-wide fame with articles in over 2000 newspapers after predicting the Newfoundland plane crash. Your prediction is written in full view of the VIP and media. The VIP signs and dates your headline predictions. The predictions are sealed in an envelope which both the VIP and media members sign their names on to prevent a switch.

On the day of the show, the VIP opens the envelope and reads the predictions. You are 100% correct. NO switch of the envelope, in fact you never touch it even secretly after it is sealed and given to the VIP. ONLY one headline prediction slip. It is NOT switched. You touch NOTHING ever, while on stage and I mean nothing, not even secretly. NO preshow work with the VIP. He brings the envelope to the show, opens it and reads the prediction slip he signed 30 days ago. NO GIMMICKS, no carbons, just the envelope and predictions. There is ONLY one envelope used period. Again no switches of any kind! Everything can be left for examination.

Here is what the reviewers are saying:

"The Glass Box Revisited is a fascinating must read addition to the classic headline prediction story. The many tips and bits of business Devin has revealed will be of great interest to mentalists from neophyte to professional, especially the tech age information that brings everything up to date."

- Larry Becker

"Devin Knight released his headline prediction a few years ago to great acclaim, but now he's re-releasing a version which contains invaluable subtleties that he held back. You can certainly buy a four-figured slick-looking gimmicked prop to do an effective glass box headline prediction, or you can learn Devin Knight's handling which is just as stunningly effective, if not more so, for a sliver of the cost. In addition, the instruction manual for the aforementioned expensive prop does not contain all of the psychological details and subtle details needed to pull off this incredible miracle. The Glass Box Prediction does."

- Jheff

"Devin is deep and devious. He is not afraid to deviate from standard approaches and presentations. More than once I had to smile with respect for his off-the-wall genius. You will too, but to completely embrace his concepts you almost are required to become Devin Knight. As Rick Maue would say, 'This may require balls of steel.' You are starting on a journey that will be exciting and arduous, but highly worthwhile. Please listen and learn from a modern master."
