

Palmo, The Laflin Silk series - 4 Video DOWNLOAD

Learn how to use a gimmick that is so "old it is new." A palmo opens the door to many clever possibilities in silk magic. What is a palmo? A barrel shaped dye tube that will hold two eighteen inch silks at the same time. It allows you to do a double switch with large silks without switching out gimmicks. Open the door to a world of possibilities with many routine ideas using this great gimmick. Learn a routine where a red scarf turns white and then red again in the bare hands of the magician. There is plenty of funny business involved as the magician offers to "explain" how this trick is done. The "explanation" is even more baffling than the trick itself. The regular audience will love the routine. It also will fool magicians! This is a full hour of instruction. At this point in time this is the only video in existence that teaches the proper use of this gimmick. In this one hour program you will learn how to steal it away, secretly switch it from hand to hand, properly load it with silks, and use it for color change effects, appearances, vanishes .
