Desert Rose

Finally available on download! Chris Randall has perfected a niche in the market: doing romantic magic to meet women. And to do so, he uses the always-effective cocktail napkin Rose fold. By fashioning a standard cocktail napkin into a rose shape, he shows the spectator an unusual skill AND gives them something to remember him by.

Now he has taken the concept even further. Chris has created a variety of amazing tricks to do WITH the rose before you give it away: make the rose appear, cause it to change into a bottle of beer, make the flower appear in a flash of fire, and much more. All the effects are simple, easy to perform, and look AMAZING in the context of a bar. If you're looking for magic to meet people, THIS is the collection for you.

BONUS: Seven Digits

Often considered THE best pickup trick in magic, Seven Digits is a non-threatening, cool way to pass your number on to that special someone you just met. You crumple up a cocktail napkin and place it in a spectator's hands. You then remove a pen and "sky-write" into the air some sort of message. When she opens her hands, she discovers that the cocktail napkin now has YOUR phone number on it. Chris has successfully used Seven Digits to meet women and make new friends for YEARS and now he is sharing that secret with us.
