

Long Distance by Jonathan Royle - Video/Book DOWNLOAD

The performance video above says it all really, this is a routine whereby 3 Random Audience members each mentally think of a Playing Card and then Another audience member calls up one of their friends on their Mobile phone.

This friend on the end of the phone is then asked to name three playing cards which are written down onto a pad by the volunteer on the phone.

These 3 Playing Card names (which were chosen by their friend on the end of their phone) are then read out aloud by them to everybody and it is confirmed that miraculously somehow, their friend on the end of their mobile phone has been able to name all 3 playing cards that the three random audience members were merely thinking of.

There are no Stooges and absolutely no pre-show work involved, this plays exactly as you see it in the video, and not only is this presentation taught within this PDF, but also you will learn how to achieve a similar feat of Long Distance Mobile Phone Telepathy, whereby the person on the end of the phone is able to name the 3 different words that 3 random audience members have freely selected from some randomly selected books.

This is a most powerful Mentalism Book Test that Royle featured within his European Television Series "Life In The Bus Lane"

Plus using the Psychology and Techniques you will learn within this manual, you will find that you can apply much of the thinking and methodology to make many other routines even stronger as well.
