At the Table Live Lecture - Jeff McBride 2/18/15 - video DOWNLOAD

The living legend Jeff McBride is back for another round At The Table! Having covered close-up magic and manipulations in his first lecture, Jeff now invites you into his private home for an intimate tour of his personal and hidden library that only his closest friends and students ever get to see!

Afterwards the journey continues through the halls of the McBride House of Mystery, all the way up on stage for a lecture in parlor and stage performing from the master himself. Learn Jeff's tried and tested routines customized for larger audiences, get terrific insights about what takes a stage act from good to great, how YOU can grow as a performer and much more!

Sleights, manipulations and TONS of great advice - all the things we've come to expect from the living legend that is Jeff McBride. Learn from one of the great masters of our art in this highly anticipated At The Table Experience!
