

Korner (English) by Drusko - Video DOWNLOAD

From the creative mind of Drusko, a Mexican magician creator of "Radioactive", comes this new twist on the TNR corner plot developed and produced by Thinking Paradox.

The effect is as follows: a card is selected and signed by a spectator. One corner of the card is torn away by the spectator itself, who holds his torn card between his hands. Magician takes the corner, put it on spectator's hands and makes it disappear just by waving his empty hands over it. Now spectator can open his hands and he will discover that not only the corner is there, but also is linked again to the card which ends completely restored.

And here is the better part: the effect is completely impromptu, you will borrow any deck and just performing it. The card is signed and the restorations occurs on spectator's hand. Instructional video is very detailed and plenty of advices and ideas, also you will find 4 different new and visual restorations.
