A thought of card is conveyed to everyone (without writing down or uttering a single word) away from performer's view.

Once conveyed, the performer turns back asks a couple of unrelated questions and hesitatingly pulls out a single card from a deck of playing cards and that happens to be the same thought of card.

- No forces
- No stooges or confederates
- Borrowed deck
- Angle proof (can be done surrounded)
- Super easy to do

Note: The questions asked are just a part of presentation and has no role to play in the method behind it.
