Fate or Free Will? Only one card is missing from a deck of cards, and it is the one chosen by the spectator!

Sometimes we wonder: Are our choices dictated by Fate or Free Will? Magic Willy proposes an effect where the viewer freely chooses a card from a blue-back deck. To make sure their choice is dictated by free will, it is done with the cards face up. Then you take a red-back deck and count the cards -- there are only 51 cards!!! The card chosen by the spectator is exactly the one missing. Not only that, they turn over their card to discover it has a red back!!! This was the card that the magician removed from the red deck before everything started.
