

Systematic chaos by Alessandro Criscione - Video - DOWNLOAD

Here's a new method for a classic of card magic...

Many of you know the Triumph effect. In short, from a deck that's been shuffled with half the cards face up and half face down - total chaos - the deck emerges with all the cards facing down except the spectator's chosen card.

This video download teaches you a simple method without initial preparation. Use any deck of cards!

In this version, the magician again creates the chaos noted above after the selection has been made and placed back in the middle of the deck. And, with a snap of the fingers, all the cards are now face down except for one... the spectator's card.

Simple and direct method with a new way to show the mixed cards...

This is SYSTEMATIC CHAOS!
