A magic trick with a little touch of art

Ask to a spectator to choose a card, but nobody can see it.

Then, show a prediction card with an easel drawn on the back and let the spectator sign it both sides.

Ask to the spectator about the identity of the card and write it, then draw a simple smiley face with some spectator's characteristic, look at the drawing and say: "this is you and your card"

Then, show the drawing and compare the card you draw with the selected card to show the spectator was wrong.

Now in a blink of an eye, make the prediction change, let the spectator examine the card and give the same card for souvenir with the drawings and signature.

- A nice trick with a little touch of art.
- Very easy to do
- Give a nice experience to your audience.
- No flaps
- No magnets
- No switches
- Give them a perfect souvenir
- With your drawing and their signature.
- Very visual!
- Perfect for social media
