Mario Tarasini introduces a new T.N.R. corner trick.

Effect:

The spectator chooses a card and signs it

The magician rips the corner of the card and places the card in the box

The magician takes the corner and throws it into the box and the box falls off

The spectator grabs a card from the box and the card is whole again!

It is a very interesting and unseen variation of the T.N.R. corner.

You will get two versions - impromptu and gimmicked.

Additional supplies may need to be purchased in order to perform this effect.
