Jon Racherbaumer has been writing on close-up and card magic for over two decades. Starting with The Artful Dodges of Eddie Fields, he has written a dozen influential works including Marlo Without Tears, At the Table, Card Finesse, Gaffed to the Hilt, The Ascanio Spread, and Arch Triumphs. He also published Hierophant, Kabbala, and Sticks & Stones, magazines meant to stir, polarize, instruct, and inspire. And he ran a popular column in M-U-M called "At The Table" for a couple of years.

The first volume of the real world Cardician Trilogy, Jon Racherbaumer's Cardfixes is a thought provoking collection of fresh tricks and ideas for today's cardman. Designed for everyone who loves card magic, whether they perform, watch, collect or simply read about what's happening here and now in the field. There are tricks requiring no skill, some skill, and exceptional skill. There are miracles with and without gaffs. Over 200 pages, more than 50 items, and sumptuously graced with 156 crystal-clear photographs, Cardfixes combines top quality production with professional state-of-the-art magic including significant contributions by Ron Bauer, Nick Trost, Larry Jennings, Dave Solomon, Simon Aronson, Bob Stencil, Gene Castillon, Terry Lagerould, Paul Diamond, and others.
