IMAGINE....

...extracting a two-inch contact lens from your eye and changing it into a pair of glasses.

...causing a spectator's card to rise completely out of the deck and then hover in mid-air with a life of its own.

...having the spectator's selected card develop right before their eyes like a Polaroid picture.

...viciously tearing up a playing card and restoring it by simply waving your hand over the torn pieces.

...your coin-in-bottle routine going awry when the bottle is accidentally slapped inside the coin.

...being able to melt two pieces of rope into one and perform a most bizarre sliding knot routine.

...having a color changing deck routine run wild ending with no less than five color changes.

...showing your audience your deft skill by spearing a tossed quarter with a pencil.

...a cards-across routine where the spectator's signed card vanishes from those traveling across and ends up inside your wallet.

...a whole new meaning to "cold, hard cash," as a dollar bill visibly changes into a silver dollar at your fingertips.

...a single playing card transforming into a complete deck of fifty-two cards right before your eyes.

IMAGINE .. performing all these superlative routines plus many more. Wouldn't you want this book in your possession?
