Impromptu magic is always fun to perform, especially when using a borrowed items.

Now Agustin shares one of his fresh impromptu effect, using nothing but a pack of gum and rubber band.

The plot is simple. Tie the pack of gum with the rubber band.

It's impossible for the gum to come out without removing or breaking the rubber band.

But you're able to make the gum slowly and visually out from a tightly locked box.

This is an organic version of escape illusion that you can do easily anytime, anywhere.

Everything is clean from start to finish.

And there's also visual solid thru solid as a bonus trick.

You can try this out.
