#3 Trade Secrets - Finessed Frank Thompson Cut by Benjamin Earl and Studio 52

A breakdown of Ben's handling of the classic Frank Thompson False Cut. This False Cut technique has become a classic for good reason, it is simple, robust, and deceptive, however Ben's touches improve this already stellar classic. You will also learn a tabled version of this cut and a four-card production which creates the impression of four cards being cut from direct areas in one fluid sequence.

Ben Earl has fooled Penn and Teller, amazed David Blaine, and is a world-renowned performer, creator, and teacher of magic. Now he wants to share his trade secrets with you. In this Trade Secrets project by Studio 52, Benjamin Earl will share his YEARS of experience, techniques and psychology behind his innovative magic.

"Ben Earl has turned his analytical mind toward the fundamentals of sleight of hand and we all benefit. His clear vision, fresh approach and articulate explanations are a level above. When Ben speaks, I listen!"

- David Williamson

"Trade Secrets are a must have if you want to take your magic to the next level. Ben is a great teacher and a true magic master. This a no-brainer...get these!"

- Bill Malone

"Trade Secrets represents a deeper level of thinking and analysis on the impeccable execution of sleight of hand. Who better to be our coach than Benjamin Earl. This new series is simply outstanding."

- Michael Vincent

Trade Secrets by Benjamin Earl is a one-of-a-kind opportunity to INSTANTLY learn card magic from a master. Key moves that will make any routine better including: The Combination Shuffle, The Overhand DPS, Finessed Frank Thompson Cut and the False Swing Cut.

In Trade Secrets, Benjamin Earl goes meticulously through each move; not only showing the hand positions -- but also the psychology of the moves AND how to maximize impact for your spectators. He will give you the tools to choreograph YOUR sleight of hand moves so perfectly that they will become undetectable to your spectators. True magic.
