

Diminishing Milk

The milk is poured from the largest glass to the next smaller, until it is finally poured into the smallest glass.

- The amount of milk is always perfect.
- From glass to glass, the milk fills to the brim, never too much and never too little!