

Sword thru card

The magician asks a spectator to choose a card from the deck, asks him to remember it and to put it back in the deck. Then, the magician grabs a stylish sword, throws the cards in the air and under the incredulous eyes of the audience he pierces a card... obviously it will be the one chosen by the spectator.

- Completely disassembled for an easy transport.
- The sword is made of plastic but looks like iron. This makes it very light and very easy to use.
