

Tenyo - Magic Plunger

This unique card magic effect uses a miniature plunger, typically used to unclog pipes.

Here, the plunger magically lifts up random playing cards in succession.

Next, the plunger sucks up the exact number of playing cards named by a spectator.

Finally, the plunger locates a selected card from the deck.

This thoroughly baffling magic routine is sure to please your audiences. It has it all: an intriguing plot, a visually interesting prop, and it's easy to do.

It is no wonder so many professional magicians around the world have incorporated this routine into their working repertoires.
