

Visual Matrix AKA Rose Act Elegant Gold (Gimmick and Online Instructions) by Will Tsai and SansMinds

Remember the shiver down your spine when you first saw The Rose Act on AGT? It was a historical moment. The elegance and impossible visual took the public world by storm, and the innovative thinking behind the magic led everybody in our community talking about it.

After the show was aired, Will got a call from the network informing him of the rating, and that the viral growth of his segment was equivalent to 12 years of magic on AGT combined. It was a historical moment as we were all jumping up and down like fools celebrating the madness. 300 million views after, this single act has not only made Will Tsai one of the highest-paid magicians in the 21st century, it has more importantly made a mark in the history of magic.

Now, you can own a piece of history.

We've seen tons of terrible knock offs along the way and received complaints from people believing they purchased Will's original act at a $1500-2000USD price point but couldn't get it to work. The truth is, Will never revealed his real secrets... until now.

"The devil is in the details."

Releasing the act was never a part of the plan. However, after seeing so many supporting fans that have been ripped off, Will has decided to do a release AT THE COST of making them as he believes the knowledge and the result of his years of research deserve to stay in the history of magic.

Since this is a project we aim to share and pass down the knowledge properly at cost, we, unfortunately, cannot make this a permanent item. It is limited.

We don't know how many SansMinds is making as their master prop specialists are making it in their spare time between their productions and TV projects.

This is not just an act. It's a piece of history you can own, collect, and perform. Again, only a limited quantity.

This is the only magic act in AGT history to get 40 million views in 40 hours.

Now, you can be a part of magic history.

We will not have enough for everyone and it is not meant to be for everyone.
