

PLM (Pretty Little Men) by Vincent Roca and Magic Dream

Easy to do and very visual, this trick is suitable for both adults and children! PLM (Pretty Little Men) is a new kind of card trick. Created by Vincent Roca, you will immediately see the potential when you have the deck in your hand!

The magician introduces a rather special set of cards because each card represents a little man with the first letter of the word below (G for Guitarist, P for Painter, C for Clown, etc.).

You can present the deck as a game for kids to learn vocabulary. In fact, this simple board game will allow you to perform an incredible magic trick. The spectator freely chooses a card and places it on the table. The magician gives himself 5 chances to find the card, but fails. While everything seems to have failed, the magician snaps his fingers and turns the 5 cards over, which now reveal the spectator's selection as a huge pictogram!

You'll leave the spectators speechless with this impossible climax! You can start over again with a different card if you wish. Perfect for close-up for children or adults, you can always carry this card game with you. And with Vincent's special handling, no need for a table!
