

iLevel Pro by Mark Elsdon & Hanson Chien - Schwebendes Handy

In 2013, Mark Elsdon created and released iBalance, which allowed you to balance a borrowed cellphone on your fingertips.

But that trick became obsolete, as the gimmick doesn't work with any current cellphone. Therefore, with the cooperation with Mark Elsdon, a brand new version has been created- iLevel Pro.

The brand new iLevel Pro gimmick will work with any smartphone. Also, its gimmick is much more invisible. You can even use it to balance other objects, such as power bank, AirPods and so on.

We also provide a container to you to carry the gimmick anywhere.

Most importantly, the new gimmick is not like the old one. It's easily to repair and we give you everything you need, make sure you can use this gimmick for a long time.

Get ready to take your phone magic to the next level!
