Notes: The set exclusively includes the crucial gimmicks. You will need to provide the carton of milk, various liquids, and cups, all of which are standard everyday items.

The act of pouring different beverages from the same container is an ancient magic trick found in books and stories from various cultures dating back over 2000 years. Throughout history, this effect has remained mysterious and captivating.

In ancient China, legends also revolved around this effect, including the famous "Yin Yang Dual-Chambered Pot," which has been featured in numerous movies and TV series.

In 2019, magician Lu Chen dazzled the audience with Wolfgang Moser's FISM runner-up routine "The Magic Pot" at the China Spring Festival Gala, drawing widespread attention to this incredible effect.

Fueled by fascination, Colin and Heiman studied this effect in-depth, aiming to develop their unique version. After countless experiments and improvements, they created one of the most practical and magical versions of this effect: Dream Drink.

Dream Drink is a version of the Magic Pot effect where milk is poured from a carton of milk that the audience can even taste, followed by various beverages such as milk tea, coffee, cola, orange juice, red wine, and more.

What sets Dream Drink apart are three essential features that amplify its impact:

1. All beverages produced are real and drinkable.
2. Only one carton is needed for the entire performance; no switches are necessary.
3. After the show, the milk carton can be torn open and shown to the audience.

Dream Drink offers excellent flexibility, allowing you to customize the types of liquids produced from three to five. It adapts to any brand or size of the milk carton, making it ideal for commercial or theatrical performances.

In addition to the gimmick, an online tutorial is included to guide you through the entertaining routine.
