

Devil's Cups by Gabriel Werlen, Marchand de Trucs & Mindbox

A diabolical method for finding a hidden object.

You put four metal cups in a row in front of your spectator.

You give him a die.

While you look away, he freely hides the die under one cup without giving you any information.

He then freely and secretly shuffles the cups.

You are immediately able to identify under which cup the die is hidden.

- No electronics.
- No question asked.
- The participant can freely hide the die under any of the cups.
- The participant freely and secretly shuffles the cups as much as he wants.
- Simple and foolproof method.
- You can also use any small object instead of the die.

Comes with multiple routines.

Beside the main routine, Gabriel Werlen teaches you four other routines that will, among other things, allow you to divine the color of the hidden dice and to involve several participants at the same time.

You can combine all the routines together or use them separately.
