Design Concept and Background

Let's journey back to 1995.

At an IBM conference, Professor Finn Jon showcased a mind-boggling performance: He handed a bag of nails to an audience member and asked them to extract any number of nails. Then, he reclaimed the bag and placed it on a tray.

With uncanny precision, he correctly guessed the exact count of nails in the spectator's hand, leaving every magician in the audience astounded.

In the subsequent lecture, Professor Finn Jon unveiled the secret-summed up in a single phrase: "Electronic Scale." In an era with less advanced technology, Finn Jon used the weight information of the remaining nails to determine the quantity held by the audience member. This has left a profound impact and gave birth to a new principle in mentalism.

Over the following three decades, numerous magic devices based on this principle emerged, evolving with technological progress. Magicians began utilizing programming to convert weight measurements into valuable performance data. When combined with card stacks, the effects grew even more astonishing.

These effects were already incredibly potent. Nevertheless, we discerned a deeper potential within the "weighing" principle. After two years and three development stages, we proudly present the PITATA Smart Scale, ready to share our team's innovative concepts with you.

The PITATA Smart Scale, 'Weigh more than your Imagination'.

We hope we can truly weigh more than your imagination.

The Epitome of Precision - 100% Guaranteed! (Real-world test below)

The PITATA Smart Scale is an advanced mind-reading device grounded in Finn Jon's weighing principle. It incorporates dozens of components, including highly sensitive pressure sensors, to detect weight changes as precise as 0.01g. It transforms these measurements into valuable information for magicians. It's so precise that it can detect the weight of a single playing card or even a tiny mint candy with 100% accuracy.

Extreme Concealment - Customizable Housing

The PITATA Smart Scale boasts remarkable versatility. The design, akin to the PITATA Smart Memopad, breaks free from traditional constraints. Compact at 77mm * 63mm * 20mm (slightly thicker than a deck of cards), it's one of the smallest weighing devices available. DIY enthusiasts can craft their unique housing.

During performances, everyday objects from daily life take center stage. The icing on the cake-these objects can be handled by the audience themselves and given as souvenirs. This is among the most discreet and high-tech mind-reading devices available.

Ultimate Creativity

The PITATA Smart Scale operates via the receiver or the app.

The receiver stars in these classic effects:

- The Preset Stack Reading: Combine the PITATA Smart Scale with specific card stacks to read your audience's minds. The PITATA Smart Scale can discern their cut-to card and precisely how many cards they have. The unit comes preloaded with Si Stebbins, Mnemonica, and other card stacks.
- Equal Weight Objects Quantity Reading: Someone selects a handful of candies or coins, and the PITATA Smart Scale reveals the exact quantity taken.

These functions represent the core usage of the device. However, by delving deeper into the weighing principle, we've expanded the possibilities in the PITATA App to include more imaginative effects. In addition to the aforementioned features, the app enables:

- Stack Customization: Alongside the six classic preloaded card stacks, you can customize your familiar stacks. It's not limited to playing cards; you can create custom Billet Stacks with objects like fruits, animals, or locations, seamlessly integrating them into your existing mentalism routines.
- Borrowed Objects Reading: You borrow five objects from the audience, and one audience member secretly takes one. You can accurately identify their choice. Alternatively, after preparing five objects, you have five different audience members randomly choose one, and you can identify each selection.
- Kurotsuke & Russian Roulette: Inspired by Max Maven, this classic mind-reading effect involves identifying the individual who took the red ball. Using the same principle, you can replace the ball with any other object, such as performing a Russian Roulette-style routine. (The receiver can be specially programmed as well.)
- Mental Drinks: A creative routine by PITATA team where you present five cups of different beverages to the audience, and they freely choose one to drink. After each sip, using your heightened sense of taste, you can accurately reveal the specific beverage the audience member drank.
- Mental Coins Prediction: Similar to Mental Drinks, you prepare coins from five different countries, incorporating captivating stories from each country into your routine. You can predict which coin the audience member will select, possibly using techniques like Multiple Out or indexes.
- The Telepathy: Place a voodoo doll on a table, and you can seemingly perceive where a spectator touches it.

Furthermore, we've organized all these effects into a reference table, providing a foundation to substitute any mentioned objects with alternatives, allowing you to create personalized routines reflecting your unique style.

Moreover, we've recently added many innovations and details to the PITATA app, including a fully automatic mode, opening doors to even more possibilities in the future.
