
Progressive Bills by Meir Yedid

A routine right out of Meir Yedid's professional stage and parlor acts. One he has been performing for most of his career. This is a quick version of the bill repeat plot that is logical, self-working, and has a powerful "applauds cue" ending. The brilliant part of the method is that the big finale serves as the secret gimmick throughout the routine. The routine ends with a flash unfold that produces the gimmick to great applause.

The basic routine involves five one-dollar bills which are cleanly counted and displayed. You then cleanly remove one and put it away. But when you count the remaining bills, you still have five left. This can be repeated as many times as you like (within reason) depending on your presentation and as a finale the bills visually transform into a giant five-dollar bill.

It is completely self-contained, packs small (fits in a wallet or envelope), always ready to perform, ideal for stage and platform shows, a perfect Emcee routine and can even be a hit in family and children's shows.

The supplied gimmicks will have to be prepared before the first performance with a little gluing and folding that is clearly explained in the tutorial. You will also have to supply your own US one-dollar bills.

Comes with three special gimmicks (one to experiment with, one to practice with, and one to perform with), and access to an online video tutorial. A Meir Yedid Magic product.
