The Holy Grail

Spectator opens up to any page and picks any word.

She reads the sentence her word is in, to herself.
Depending on the word she chose, you can immediately reveal her word.
This will happen quite often.
A true miracle.

You Chose Wisely

If one of the Holy Grail words are not chosen...
Ask your spectator to change her word into any word she wants; maybe something personal or something funny. No restrictions.
She reads the sentence out loud using the new word she created.
You can now reveal the original word.
