We've all become accustomed to square playing cards, people tend to stick to the norm, as if playing cards were always meant to be square.

So, why not make playing cards circular? We're not exactly sure why we had this idea, but we have to admit that it's quite intriguing. After continuous development, we've turned this idea into reality!

The card backs and the tuck box feature the design of the Prometheus Standard Edition playing cards. The tuck box is a round, hardcover case with gold foil accents, creating an elegant and luxurious overall look. The card faces follow a monochromatic design with subtle patterns, in addition to the suits and numbers. Traditional court card designs have also been harmoniously integrated into the unique circular cards.
