Bicycle Tlaloc - Pokerdeck

Tlaloc, The Storm God. This is the 2nd deck depicting the gods of Mexico's ancient Aztec religion.

Tlaloc is the God of Rain. Worshipped as the giver of life and sustenance, but also feared for his power over hail, thunder, lightening, and even the rain itself. Associated with caves, springs, and mountains, specifically the sacred mountain, Mount Tlaloc, where he is said to reside.

Meixca artists use the color blue to represent Tlaloc, and he will always be carrying a vessel that contains water.

This colorful and intricately hand drawn deck honors ancient Aztec traditions by bringing their past back to the present. Makes a fantastic addition to any card collection and adds an element of interest and design to any card game.

This deck is part of Collectable Playing Cards 1000 DECK CLUB. Only 1000 decks will be printed with an exclusive "CPC 1000 Deck Club" seal. Own one of the first 1000 decks to be printed! If any of these decks should be reprinted in the future, they will host the standard Bicycle seal.
