
The Monkey King Collector's Box - Pokerdeck

There are many portrayals of the Monkey King, but there's only one "Havoc in Heaven."

"Havoc in Heaven," as an animated classic, has influenced several generations. It stands as a monumental achievement in the history of Chinese animation, and its significance is so profound that further elaboration seems redundant. The unique designs and vibrant colors in the movie make every frame classic, captivating audiences endlessly.

Discussing the behind-the-scenes trivia, accomplishments, and artistic excellence of "Havoc in Heaven" would take days on end. When combined with playing cards, it invokes a nostalgic experience reminiscent of the film, deeply imbued with Chinese culture.

The Monkey King Playing Cards Collector's Box

Contains three decks of cards, limited to 300 sets, with a unique number seal and an official authentication sticker. Upgrades include a double-layer card box, holo on card faces, and rare gilded edges.

In terms of the box craftsmanship, it's a high-end lacquered wooden box, adorned with a full-page golden embossment. Decorated with traditional Chinese cloud patterns, the title "Havoc in Heaven" stands out prominently.