
Wine by Fast Foods - Pokerdeck

The art for the WINE deck could very well be the label of your favorite variety of grapes imported from your favorite vineyard. And who knows, maybe this vintage was crushed under the feet of Bart Simpson himself while he'd been sent away to France? Just a joke - but the classical detailed tuck design does conjure up imagery of that old-world provincial life where grape treading was still part of the art of winemaking.
