Mental Key Prediction by TCC & Conan Liu & Royce Luo

Mental Key Prediction enables you to astonish your audience by flawlessly predicting any four-digit number chosen at random by them, inscribed on the back of a wooden keychain, without any use of force.

Effect: The magician introduces a walnut wood key pendant with a key attached to it, and begins to tell an intriguing story. Four random numbers are called by the audience, which may even be an important date or time. The magician turns the keychain over to reveal the room number inscribed on the back of the wooden keychain, which perfectly matches the four random numbers.

The keychain can be handed to the audience for examination after the performance.

This complete set includes keys, gimmicks, reset tools, stickers, paper notepads, and other accessories for a total of 120 performances.

Features

- The key is in full view of the audience from start to finish and never leaves their sight.
- Numbers are selected randomly, without any force.
- The routine supports up to four digits, making it more expandable and allowing the prediction of dates or times.
- The keychain can be handed to the audience for examination after the performance.
- Each set allows for 120 performances, and a refill pack will be available soon.
- Suitable for stand-up and parlor performances.
- No assistant required.
