
Scents of Wonder by Todd Karr

Although there are many different types of routines that these special flower cards can be used for, the main routine revolves around a prediction.

You begin by writing a prediction on a paper napkin and leaving it in full view. You then show a stack of business sized cards with pictures of different types of flowers on them and have one selected in a very fair manner.

When the selected card is turned over it is seen to be a rose. You then reveal that what you wrote on the napkin was rose. But that is not all. You can proceed to twist the napkin into an origami rose, offer it as a gift and even point out that it smells like a rose. Satisfying most of the senses and giving your spectator a gift.

The tutorial teaches several different methods that range from self-working to intermediate as well as different applications for the flower cards. You are also taught a simple method of folding any paper napkin into a flower.

Comes with 24 special flower cards (2" x 3") and access to an online video tutorial with Todd Karr and Meir Yedid. A Meir Yedid Magic product.
