Hoodoo: The Return

The world's most sinister effect; The Haunted Voodoo Doll is BACK, and, things just got a whole lot more TWISTED.

NOW, at the end of your classic Haunted Doll routine, you can have the doll DISAPPEAR, then REAPPEAR in the coffin box that's been on the table the whole time.

But that's not all.

Inside your spectator's hands, the head of the Voodoo Doll CHANGES into the dead person your spectator is thinking of. This has got to be the most messed up thing in magic. Black Magic?

Hoodoo: The Return, comes with TWO Voodoo Dolls:

The first doll is haunted (gimmicked like the original) so you can perform the classic routine of putting a pin in its heart, making it rise in your hand with NO threads or magnets, putting a glass over it, even getting it to stand on one leg.

The second doll is non-gimmicked, but comes with FIVE interchangeable heads:
ONE Normal Head (with a playing card reveal in the eyes they won't spot unless pointed out - King of Clubs)
FOUR Dead Celebrity Heads - Elvis, Michael Jackson, Marilyn Monroe and Amy Winehouse.

Basic routine:

.... So imagine getting your spectator to secretly 'think' of (or pick) a dead celebrity to bring back to life.

In a bid to communicate with the dead, you take out your Voodoo Doll and do the whole 'terrifying rising thing in your hand'. Just when they think the evil act is finished with, the doll's head has changed to their dead celebrity, right in their hands, proving some kind of paranormal connection did indeed take place.

You can of course, switch the doll using simple sleight of hand, or, use the self working Switch Coffin Box provided. That's right, the creepy coffin box your set comes in can now switch in, switch out, disappear and reappear the Voodoo doll.

You can also customise your doll easily with 'red blood' (like iNFiNiTi's in the trailer) or darken other details to highlight its features.
