"The 21st Century Center Tear"

From the creator of Alien, Now!, Password, Boarding Pass and many others...

A quick, organic, and to the point, this packs a punch for magicians and mentalists alike.

Perform mind-reading over your spectator on ANY website or social media... instantly!

Pros are calling it a game-changer. A true EDC.

Here's what happens: you ask about any topic your spectator loves, like cars, watches, houses, brands, people, or anything.

After a quick introduction, you hand your phone and from now on you will never touch it again!

He will be scrolling on the website he wants over images (or headlines) and stops at his selected one. He doesn't click on anything, merely THINKS of the item.

After that, he shuffles or navigates to another page. It doesn't matter. You are ready to read his mind and reveal the image or information he is thinking of.

Important points:

- Three methods of performance, for every type of venue.
- Completely hands off handlings.
- Does not use the phone camera.
- Does not use position sensors.
- Does not depend on a specific spectator gesture.
- Very easy to do!
- No setup, go straight into performance!
- No uploading of pictures or preparing.
- Any language

It allows mind reading on any website without the spectator actually writing or searching for anything.

100% effective and you are in control at all times. Different ways for peeking and handling.

Modern-day mentalism at its best, perfectly justified. Opens the door to a world of possibilities.
