Don't wait...these will NOT last...

Carrots V2 SOLD OUT instantly on 2 separate drops

Carrots V1 SOLD OUT: in 79 min on the Fontaine website

Fontaine Carrots V3 have a mysterious black back design overlayed with the iconic Fontaine "F" pattern and vibrant red carrot outlines.

Incredible style and amazing visuals for any cardist, magician and collector.

How did the Fontaine Playing Card/ Carrot clothing partnership begin?

In September of 2016 I drove to downtown Los Angeles' Fashion District to meet Anwar Carrots.

As a longtime fan of the Carrots brand, I went to talk streetwear, and give Anwar Fontaines.

I arrived at the last hour on the last day of clothing tradeshow for buyers and distributors. I slept in.

As booths were packing up, I introduced myself to Anwar, showed cardistry, and told him my story.

"Honestly I haven't met anyone yet at this event I want to work with, except one guy who I might make a 1/1 snowboard with", Anwar said, pausing.

"Let's do a deck."

Joining cardistry and streetwear has been a longtime dream. Lining up at supreme in 2011, I dreamt of a day when kids would line up for playing cards. I've been a fan of Anwar since tumblr, thru PNCintl, and you'll see me wearing carrots in my videos since 2013. I genuinely love this brand. Anwar and I started working on this collection over 10 months ago. Today Carrots Fontaines are a reality. To hold this deck, with my logo and the carrots logo, is very surreal. My first collab being with my favorite street wear brand is a dream. Kids lining up at Round Two for a deck of cards is a dream. Making friends in streetwear, learning and getting inspired by Jered Vargas, Mike Cherman, Alex Bortz, Joey Paschette, Bobby Hundreds, Andy Paz, Ryan O'Conner, and Sean Wotherspoon is a dream.

All of these dreams are actually becoming a reality. It's fucking nuts, and I'm so honored and humbled to be part of it all. This is just the beginning.
