
Prophet's Deck by Pen, Bond Lee & MS Magic

We have been looking for an efficient "Master-prediction system" for a long time, and here is our solution: the Prophet's Deck.

The magician displays a prediction envelope and has an audience member hold on to it.

A random volunteer is asked to call out three random pieces of information: a person, a time and a location.

They are also asked to select a random card. That's a total of four predictions at once.

After they have made all these decisions, the magician opens the prediction and it matches each one of the volunteer's selections perfectly!

The Prophet's Deck truly packs small and plays big.

You can customize any prediction you desire to match your routine.

Perfect to perform in a parlor or stage venue.

So what are you waiting for? Get your Prophet's Deck today.

- Easy to do
- Pack small play big
- Fully customizable
