
Malice by Xavier Spade

Make any message appear on the side of the deck with zero cover!

Malice is a multi-purpose gaff for revelations, appearances, and vanishes with a deck of cards. It is visual, customizable and very easy to do. The gaff itself is practically unbreakable. There is no thread or magnets involved, so it will last you countless performances.

The basic version of malice allows you to make any message appear on the side of the deck. There are no restrictions on what the kind of decks you are using, so every single aspect of the routine can be customized by you. Other than routines with revelations, we have also included several other uses of Malice in the explanation for you. We really want you to see the diverse uses and different possibilities of Malice, and potentially use it for things other than routines taught in this project. So grab a deck of cards, and enjoy Malice.
