
Dr. Schwartz's Alexander The Man Knows Rising Cards by Martin Schwartz

Dr. Schwartz has invented many mechanical marvels. ALEXANDER'S RISING CARDS is probably going to be his best.

A completely new idea in rising cards. Completely baffling as the selected cards rise from the metal container. This is done as you are nowhere near the prop, yet completely under your control.

A metal container is displayed, decorated with a picture of Alexander The Man Who Knows and handed out for examination. A deck of cards is shuffled and three cards selected and shuffled back into the deck by the spectator. You now explain how Alexander would make a magical gesture over the cards and each would rise up mysteriously from the container.

Remember everything can be examined. A great rising card effect for adults and children. Complete with video instructions. Easy to do and ready to work right away.
