Find The Queen by Damien Vappereau

Damien Vappereau revisits "B'Wave" by Phil Goldstein. Discover a simple, automatic, direct and confusing version for the public.

The magician presents some cards face down while explaining that they are the four Queen. He then puts a card aside, still face down. Then the effect begins:

1. A spectator chooses a color; the magician shows that he had predicted this color choice.
2. Then, the spectator names a Queen, and the magician returns the card to the table. It is indeed the Queen named by the spectator.
3. To finish the magician returns the three remaining cards on the table. By putting them together like a puzzle, they form the named Queen.

Very simple, easy to present
