Stop Bullying by Mr. Dwella and Twister Magic

From the mind of Mr. Dwella from Puerto Rico, comes this super routine for children and family shows.

Inspired by the classic Ring, Watch and Money effect, popularized by the great Tommy Wonder and the plot created by Oswald Rea in the 1920s, you now get this family version that talks about stopping bullying at school with magic and a positive message.

The Magician shows his empty lunch box and says:

"When I was a kid, my mother sent me to school with my lunch box. She always sent me a mandarin, a juice box, a pack of cookies and of course, I always carried my homework with me"

The magician continues the story:

"There was an older boy, who was the bully at school. He always took food from other children without permission"

An empty paper bag is now shown and placed aside. Now the magician continues the story:

"At lunch time, with an angry look on his face, he came over with a paper bag and took my juice box, my mandarin, my cookies and even worse, he opened my folder and stold my homework too" (All items are placed inside of the paper bag)

The magician continues:

"What the bully did not know, is... That I am a magician and by just snapping my fingers... I made everything that he had stolen, disappear immediately in his bag!"(The paper bag is all crumpled up very small, showing that everything has disappeared)

The magician continues with his speech saying:

"Because I still had my juice, my mandarin and my cookies! Ah and by the way... (Magician opens his folder again) I also had my homework!"
