
Guess by Jamie Daws and Kaymar Magic

GUESS by Jamie Daws is a killer commercial idea - a set of cards based on the popular game 'Guess Who', but with a deadly secret...

The cards are marked, with an ingenious system that is very easy to read, so that you can reveal the person someone has chosen in a myriad of ways.

On the included online video, Jamie Daws and Liam Montier take you through a barrage of different tricks, including predictions, revelations and transpositions using the cards, and giving you options on how to put a routine of effects together, using just a tiny packet of cards that sit in your pocket or wallet.

Not only that, but Jamie has also included a fabulous method of predicting a thought of person, which he uses to end his routine! It's a show stopper, and will fool EVERYONE!

The Guess cards are a devious way of making all manner of routines more commercial, with the cards being instantly recognizable, and able to replace regular cards, tarot cards or ESP cards in many effects.

Package includes 11 custom printed, heavy duty Guess cards, with rounded corners (9 different, 1 duplicate, and 1 gaffed for extra routines), special red envelope and link to video instructions detailing a whole host of routines and effects!
