
Playing Card Collection GOLD 12 Deck Box by TCC

None of us would express dissatisfaction that we have too many decks of playing cards. With one's growing collection of playing cards, brick boxes have become a necessity among playing card collectors. Various custom brick boxes have always been particularly popular. Who would reject a portable and durable high-quality Playing Card Collection Brick Box?

One would only need to experience using the Collection Brick Box once for its ease of use and durability to leave a deep and lasting first impression.

The leathery material makes the brick box have a firmness that other boxes cannot match. The leathery material and flannel lining were specially selected. Whether it is the hands contacting the leather, or the playing card decks lying on the flannel, you can feel the excellent quality of the box. The delicate touch is as if it is saying, "You can be rest assured, leave them to me."

Every detail of the box has been researched. The exterior material is similar to the color and texture of leather, which makes the box look very pure.

The lid inlay has an in-built magnetic concealed clasp, which improves the user experience while also improving the security. It greatly avoids any irreversible losses that may be caused by various little accidents.

When lay eyes on a golden exterior, they usually subconsciously think that the cards inside are valuable. After all, gold absolutely stands out compared to any other colors.

The mirth and grace of gold makes it stand out amongst the conventional. The texture and unique metallic luster on the surface are a symbol of the status and taste of its owner. If you intend to show off your playing card collection, the gold color is perfect for you.
