
Micro Cups and balls by Leo Smetsers

The amazing Leo Smetsers has done it again with his newest offering, the Micro Cups and Shells. These come in the highest quality you would expect from Leo, and each set is finished and assembled by hand and come in their own protective casing.

The cups are ideal for anyone looking for something different in their three shell game routine and further more can be used for a truly close up version of the classic cups and balls!

Leo and his good friend Andy Smith teach ideas using the props, including applications for the three shell game and cups and balls, so you can mix and match to suit your own performing style. You will also learn Leos great application of the three shell game where the cups are stacked, adding a completely new dimension to this classic effect!

This wonderful set is not only built to last, but would make a welcome addition to any serious students collection.
