
The Edge Wallet (Black) by TCC

The wallet has long been regarded as a daily tool for storage of currency. The wallet can be traced back to the Xia and Shang Dynasties in China at its earliest. No matter the country or region, basically everyone has one or more wallets that they prefer. The wallet has undergone thousands of years of changes in design and functionality throughout history. It has been integrated into our daily lives just like our food, clothing, housing and transportation.

Nevertheless, with the development of e-commerce, it seems that the trend of using a wallet is gradually decreasing. As currency becomes digitized, electronic payments can be made on mobile phones. This made the wallet appear less and less common. However, this does not mean that the wallet is obsolete. Rather, this has further drove the development, upgrade and evolution of the traditional wallet. The wallet is now gradually becoming an accessory, a symbol of style.

In the field of magic, wallet-based magic props are constantly being upgraded and innovated. From different sizes and colors, to the design and structure. Allowing the magic to be performed more directly or visually. Wallets or card holders are now more tastefully chosen, not only for function, but for design and aesthetics.
