
Tyvek Comedy Card Jumbo by Alan Wong

A very commercial always ready three phase comedy card prediction routine, that packs flat and unfolds big, in durable Tyvek material.

This can be your ice-breaking opening effect, an intermission trick for MC or your life-saving back up trick for the unexpected moment!

You show a large A4 size clear plastic laminated card as your open prediction. It can be on display where you can hang it up, put on a stand, lean it against a chair or have someone hold it inside an envelope during the whole show.

Bring out a deck of cards, have a spectator choose a card and say to the spectator the prediction will be your card. Turn over the prediction and it reads exactly "YOUR CARD".

Say you are just kidding and tell the spectator, "When I open up the card you will definitely see your card!".

Open up the card and reveal that all 52 cards are there. Ask the spectator, "Do you see your card?"

They say yes, and you say, "See? I am right again!"

Ask the spectator, "What was your card?" and finally open up the card again to reveal their only chosen card in jumbo size big enough to be seen anywhere!
