
Space Time Blue by Tom Elderfield

"This is by far my favorite take on the moving hole concept"

- Shin Lim

In the world of physics, there are discoveries being made daily that are going to shape the future of humanity. Most of these wondrous discoveries we cannot see or feel. That is, until Tom Elderfield punching holes in playing cards and instantly moving them through the woven fibers right in front of you.

Space Time is Tom's latest marvel, where he places an open hole into a playing card, then the hole jumps around the card as if he's warping the fabric of space time itself. Unlike previous hole plots, you can clearly show both sides of the card between each phase. With a wave, it will seem as if you instantly healed those voids in the card as if you turned back the clock, restoring the card to pristine condition.

No sleight of hand required and it is fun and easy to perform.

- Instant reset
- Real hole in the card - see right through
- No setup
- Hand-crafted gimmick with attention to every detail
- Online Tricks, routines, handlings and instructions included

Test the boundaries of this unexplainable physical paradox as you shock your spectators with Space Time by Tom Elderfield.

"Amateurs and professionals, every magician's card box should have one of these!"

-Gregory Wilson

"I've been following Tom Elderfield quietly for a while now. I was hoping he'd remain a secret and I'd keep his killer magic for myself. Bummer! EVERYONE is going to want this trick. Good method. Fun and visual."

- Justin Flom

"An very visual effect with a clever method! You can see a hole which really moves!"

- Mickael Chatelain

"Visually stunning, The best moving hole effect I have ever seen!"

- Damien O'Brien
