The Master Deck - Volume 1

Have the ability to locate ANY named card instantly and with no memory work!

This new system from the mind of Marc Oberon takes all of the time and effort out of learning to use a memorized stack. You'll really be using it in no time at all. Includes several tricks to get you started.

The Master Deck - Volume 2

Great follow up from The Master Deck Volume 1. Contains 6 tricks:

Colback

A thought-of card is revealed as the only one in the pack with a different coloured back.

Tapping

A spectator names any card in the pack. The magician spreads the deck, displaying the backs of all the cards, and asks the spectator to tap the back of any of the cards she sees. When that card is turned over it is found to be her named card.

Psychic Stop-Out

A spectator names any card in the pack. The magician counts the cards out onto the table and asks the spectator to say "stop" at any point. the card is turned over and shown to be the named card.

Dribble

A spectator names any card in the pack. The magician then allows the cards to trickle or dribble from one hand into the other (or onto the table). the spectator can say "stop" at any point and their selected card will be the face card of the remaining cards held in the performers hand.

Hinge Change

A spectator is asked to name a thought-of card. Explaining that the King of Diamonds has the ability to take on the identity of any other card in the pack you show her the King, face-up on the bottom of the pack. Simply by waving your hand across the card it changes into the thought-of card.

Spread brainwave

A spectator names any card in the pack. The performer spreads the cards in his hands to show the deck as normal with the backs of the cards facing the spectator. The cards are immediately handed to the spectator who is invited to spread the deck themselves. In doing so they reveal their named card face-up in the middle of the face-down pack.

Name Deck

Using the principles of The Master Deck, you can perform a variant of the "Phil Deck" using a spectator's name!

In this package you will receive one specially prepared Master Deck, the Master Deck Book and an instructional DVD teaching the mechanics of the deck and six fantastic routines utilizing the system.
