

Linking Rubber Band trick H. Evans

Close-up Master Henry Evans strikes again with this clever effect that happens right in the spectator's hand! Several rubber bands are dropped into hand of the spectator. The spectator is instructed to close their hand and in an instant the magician has the spectator open the hand to show that all the bands are now linked in a continuous chain...and can be examined!

You will receive complete instructions and all materials you need to perform this incredible effect.