Effects:

Great effects are possible, you can even create your own routines, here are just a few great tricks you can perform:

- Apparatus Multiple Items box branded as you choose (DHL, USPS, AMAZON, FEDEX or your favorite carrier) you open it up and you show that is completely empty inside. Now you do your magic and when open again a lot of things appear from inside, giving the box to the spectators at the end for close examination.

- Prime Delivery on Prime box, open it up to show there is only bubble wrap and Kraft paper inside. Show now the box totally empty inside, close it again and now ask an spectator to select one product from the Amazon big universe. You concentrate, make your magic and materialize that product from the box that was empty a minute ago, but even better the box can be fully examined!
- By Your Side Routine ~~App~~ App ~~Showing the missing shoes~~, this will be the perfect way to reappear the shoe for the kid.
- Wrongly Delivered. Open it up to show you have received the wrong order from your favorite shop, take these products out of the box and place them aside, to show the box is empty inside. Wave your hands on top of the box and magically appear from it, the right products ordered. At the end give the box to the audience for full examination.
- Confusion or Prediction, then close-it and place aside but leaving it still in full view. You ask someone to select a famous person (E.g. Tom Cruise), a retail store (E.g. Macys) and a product from that store (E.g. Fragance). Now after the spectator have select this three things, you call their attention to the box again, when the label is read, this is a package sent by Tom Cruise to you, now the box is open again to discover inside a Macys receipt in an envelope and for the big finale, the fragrance selected also appear from inside of the box as a gift, from Tom Cruise to you.)
